You shouldn't feel bad about it. It was always my friends brother that I would hook up with. lol! I mean that's normal. When I was 15 I had a 25 year old boyfriend my mom hated him.

I don't want to view myself as being anything remotely like an abuser

It bothers me that it was made out to be abuse and that I may have hurt her in some way. Both of those things

I did everything I could to talk her into it like any boy that age would do. Never anything near forcing her

I am sure that my abuse in my past had something to do with me initiating something like that, I would think so at least. But I am still not sure what to think. I would rather make an error on the side of saying I did something really hurtful and wrong rather than taking a shot at her and her character.

She was 1.5 years younger than me. So she would have been 11 to 13 over this time period.

And yes she said no many times and I never forced her to do anything

How old was she? Regardless of age she agreed it wasn't like you forced her or if she didn't want to all she had to say is no. That sucks! And it's mean.

And I hate the thought that I have caused someone any measure of the pain I dealt with

And it is very common and I'm far from the only boy that feels girls up at age 13, but she cried when she told

She told me that other boys did the same thing for a long time, but for some reason I was the one that got mentioned

I used to stay at their house all the time. Things happened between Mandy and I, me feeling her up, on and off from when I was 12 or 13 up until about 14. She told her dad and it was made out to be abuse. Idk what to make of it but it has bothered me for a long time

Yes unfortunately it's a problem because I don't think prison fixes them. Yes I do remember them.
